town. A California Water Scheme. From the San Francisco Chronicle. October 29th.] A new water scheme has been recently incorporated, to be known as the Los Trancos Water Company, whose object is to supply the city of San Francisco with water. The source of supply is the San Francisquito creek, near the junction of the Los Trancos creek, on the eastern slope of the Santa Cruz Mountains. The proposed site for the reservoirs of the new company is in the vicinity of Menlo Park, and the estimated capacity will be 23,832,000,000 gallous, which, it is calculated, will furnish a daily supply of 30,000,000 gallons. The new company claim that by means of a conduit thirty miles long they can bring water into San Francisco at an elevation of 180 feet above the city base of levels. Careful estimates compute the cost of constructing substantial and permanent works, equal in capacity to those of the Spring Valley Company, at $6,000,000, exclusive of cost of land. A company has been organized, and the gentlemen composing the company express a determination to commence operations immediately. What Killed Cronin.

[Oregon Correspondence Sacramento Union.] I was told, some while ago, that all the ridicule made of our would-be elector, E. A. Cronin, weighed heavily on that gentleman's spirits, and while a good fellow, and fond of a joke, the one about his electorship was not one he appreciated. His personal appearance was peculiar, and the attention that it received at the hands of the illustrated press caused him untold annoyance. The other day we sang his requiem, and now that he is gone I wish to do justice to his many good qualities. The part be bore in the electoral fiasco was distasteful to him, and assumed with reluctance under great party pressure. In lawyer and a good political speaker. His manner was genial and kind and he had many friends and no enemies. He was nately are-and the news of his untimely fate is heard with general and sincere regret.

The Japanese Government is about to change its yen or dollar to correspond to the American trade-dollar in value, so as to circulate like that coin in China. The Loudon Economist wishes that the British Government "had taken time by the forelock and coined a British trade-dollar for circulation in the far East." The coining of the American trade-dollar made San Francisco the chief silver market of the world, enabling shipments to be sent from that point anywhere, of any amount, and in standard coin. English opinion sets more and more value of silver. The Pall-Mall Gazette has taken up the cause of silver very urgently.

Its beauty is truth by a very interesting episode in his own ministerial life. He urged the teachers to put forth every effort to secure the salvation of the scholars.

Mr. R. M. Manly also addressed the meeting-subject, "The High Privilege and Sacred Duty of Sunday-School Teaching." He called special attention to the fact that most of the scholars of the school are converted between the ages of ten and sixteen. He made an earnest appeal to all engaged in this good work to be faithful in the performance of the great and important duties devolved upon them.

Mr. A. L. West, president, closed the exercises by congratulating the Society on the earnest, practical addresses delivered, and the continued interest shown in these meetings by the large attendance of friends and workers.
